Subject: INMARCO-2026

Dear Sanjeev Mehra,

This is to extend this Directorate's appreciation for the commendable resolve shown by The Institute of Marine Engineers (India), in continual improvement of the maritime fraternity through the regular conduct of its International Maritime Conference and Exhibition (INMARCO). I am pleased to note that the INMARCO-2026 has been scheduled from 27th-29th October 2026 at Mumbai, India with an all-encompassing theme of 'Maritime Landscape 2030 - Opportunities & Challenges' is in line with the current industry dynamics and future pathways for the Maritime Industry.

2. The contributions of this leading technology event held quadrennial since 1982 by IME(I), a not-for-profit body of professional marine engineers has been immense and the success of DGS-INMARCO Green Shipping Conclave 2022 has been well appreciated by industry leaders, policy makers and other stakeholders as evident from numerous initiatives within the industry driven by its outcomes. The upcoming INMARCO-2026 presents an excellent opportunity to continue the collaboration of IME(I) and this Directorate for furtherance of this important work and advancement of our collective efforts in enhancing efficiency, resilience and sustainability of the international maritime community

3. The Directorate General of Shipping partners and offers full support to the INMARCO-2026 event. We believe that by working together, we can make significant strides in deliberating complex issues that the sector will face over the next 4-5 years such as capacity constraints in global yards, evolving design standards, and the need for a more efficient, modular and digitally enabled shipping. This event will also accelerate the technical engagement towards implementing and enhancing the Hong Kong Convention recycling practices besides the ever growing need for scaling zero and near-zero emission fuels for the global maritime industry

4. As we look forward to a rousing and successful INMARCO-2026, I would also like to take this opportunity to appeal to all stakeholders including governments, academia, administration, classification societies, equipment manufacturers, human capital investors, industry, multilateral agencies, port authorities globally, recyclers, regulators, shipowners, shipyards, ship-repairers, trainers, technology providers and academia to engage in this structured dialogue and high-level technical forum on the next generation of maritime infrastructure and regulatory frameworks.

With warm regards,

Sincerely, 03/12/25

(Shyam Jagannathan)

SHAPING THE MARITIME FUTURE: THE QUESTIONS THAT MATTER

- Beyond MEPC 84: What will the next phase of regulation mean for Indian shipping and global trade?
- The fuel transition: Which Zero and near Zero GHG emission fuel solutions will scale?
- Alternative-fuel bunkering: Is India ready for ammonia, methanol, hydrogen and other future fuels?
- Greener, smarter ports: How can Indian ports improve energy efficiency, resilience and sustainability?
- Shore power: Where and when can it become a viable decarbonisation option for Indian ports?
- Decarbonising existing fleets: How can shipowners cut emissions without compromising commercial viability?
- Efficiency by design: Which technologies will deliver the greatest gains in vessel performance?
- India as a maritime technology hub: Which sectors will lead in India by 2030 - green technology, shipbuilding, maritime services or/and alternative fuels?
- Financing the transition: How can green finance unlock the investment required for maritime decarbonisation?
- The future maritime workforce: Are seafarers, shore-based professionals and maritime institutions prepared for tomorrow's ships and fuels?
- Safety in a new-fuel era: How should the industry train and certify seafarers to handle ammonia, hydrogen and other alternative fuels?
- Sustainable ship recycling: How can India strengthen its position as a safe, environmentally sound and globally competitive ship-recycling hub?
- A more sustainable Indian fleet: How will new sustainability indices and stronger environmental standards influence fleet renewal and operations?
- From ambition to action: What must governments, industry, financial institutions and international partners do together to deliver measurable results?
- The Seafarer: What will be the safeguards for criminalisation of seafarers within international legal frameworks without compromising safety and security?
